

WE NOMINATE

William Taylor Thom Jr., once described by an associate as a geologist knowing everything worth knowing about oil and coal geology, who shares direct responsibility for one of the most important, and most exciting, "oil developments of recent years" in the Western Hemisphere. This fall nearly 60 drilling rigs are strung out along a three-state front, extending from South Dakota's Black Hills northward into the Canadian provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, largely because of regional Studies and reports completed by Thom and a fellow scientist more than a quarter century ago.

It was in 1922 that Thom and Carroll E. Dobbin, of the United States Geological Survey, coined the expression, the "Williston Basin," and defined the limits of a basin embracing some 76,000,000 acres, an area larger than the combined square mileages of New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware. Thom — in June, 1923 — explained in a memorandum for the press why he thought the region provided favorable territory for oil and gas exploration. In 1952, with eight new oil-producing areas already opened up, enthusiasm for the strategically located "Williston Basin" has yet to reach its peak.

An "alumnus" of the U. S. Senate, which he served as a page-boy in 1907, and a native of Roanoke, Va., the 61-year-old Thom has been a pioneering geologist ever since he was graduated from Washington and Lee University in 1913. In World War I he headed up the planning seetion of the U. S. Fuel Administration's bureau of statistics and, before coming to Princeton in 1927, was senior geologist and later chief of the fuel section of the U. S. Geological Survey.

In addition to holding the Blair Professorship of Geology—the University's second oldest endowed chair—and directing the Department of Geological Engineering. Thom has played a key role in the organization of a unique, "out-door university" in the Yellowstone-Bighorn region of Montana and Wyoming. There each summer for the past 23 years, while carrying forward intensive exploratory research, a voluntary group of eminent scientists has helped train an "undergraduate body" composed of industrial geologists, young teachers, graduate students and even pre-college enthusiasts.

For constantly seeking ways and mens of expanding the world's available supplies of essential minerals; for insisting that team research within science and industry holds one of the keys to the gateway of world peace; for his contributions in both defining and raising the standards of geological education in this country; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

Buyer, Beware, "Door-to-door salesmen," the Princeton Business Association warned this week, "descend on the community, make glib claims, llash fast credentials, often demand money in advance and move on to new fields. The product, if forthcoming at all, is often found to be inferior or not as represented. Princetonians are eautioned to investigate thoroughly before purchasing, to demand to see borough licenses, and to be chary of paying money for services or products to be delivered in the future,"

Through its president, Orren Jack Turner, Jr., the association urged residents of the community to shy away from "high-pressure salesmen and door-to-door veadors selling advertising, services and unknown products." Said Mr. Turner: "Let the Buyer Beware' is a slogan seldom to be feared when dealing with your local merchant whom you know and whose reputation and future business success depend on his dealing with you. Don't take chances—buy in Princeton."

University Opens Sunday, Princeton University's 207th academic year will begin Bunday morning at 11 with formal opening exercises in the Chapel, President Harold W. Dodds will be the principal speaker, Members of the three upper classes register Saturday, with classroom work starting Monday.

On the campus during the past week have been some 760 members of the Class of 1956, who represent 350 different schools in this country and abroad and thereby set an all-time record. Indicative of the scholastic calibre of the average boy entering Princeton today is the fact that 50 percent of their aptitude scores were over 600, ranking in the top 15 percent of the nation. Eighty-five percent were over 500, or in the top half of the nation.

The present freshman class is 60 members smaller than its immediate predecessor, for which an ultime high of 809 was accepted hecause of the uncertainties of the draft. Princeton's view of the ideal undergraduate population is 2,850 students, Choir College at Capacity. Admitting slightly less than 10 percent of those who applied, Westminster Choir College has again reported a "capacity-plus" enrollment of 300, higher than that of last year. An acute housing problem has existed on the campus for the past seven years, and so taxed are many of the college's facilities that the organ in the chapel is in use 24 hours a day.

Formal opening exercises were scheduled for this Thursday, marking the start of the 27th year, The co-founders of the college, Dr. John F. Williamson, president, and Dr. Rhea B. Williamson presided.

Football Forecasts. The first of a series of 11 weekly predictions on the nation's biggest college and professional football games is pre-sented on this page. It will be spon-sored each week by Gerber Chevro-let as a service to the thousands of sports-minded Princetonians.

The selections will be made by forecaster Joe Harris, whose pre-dictions appear weekly in more than 500 towns and cities in all parts of the nation. For a report on the accuracy of his crystal-gazing and the winners of games to be played this weekend, see below.

On defense, the entire left side (anchored by the durable Tom Hennon) graduated, but the replacements are making good proggress. At this writing, it's Ron Huseth and Harvey Mathis, ends; sophomore Pete Milano and Pete Weimar, tackle; Brad Glass and Jerry Muys (pronounced "Mize") guards. The latter was not out for football last year but has come along well as a junior.

The big worries that Charlie Caldwell and his staff are wrestling with as the Columbia opener nears are in the backfield. On offense, the entire starting quartet must be replaced; defensively, the secondary will go with only halfback Jack Newell as a really experienced player and he sat out the last six games last season with a broken

Actually, three spots in the starting offensive backfield are pretty well set. Ned Jannotta, a senior who has turned in much solid defensive play in the last two searons in the part for tellback. Chesco sons, is the pick for tailhack, Chosen to replace Dick Kazmaier, he is, in effect, stepping into the "toughest college football job in America."

The 21-year old alumnus of New Trier High School in Illinois is good enough so that, even in directly following the nation's finest player of the 1951 season, he will prob-ably never look had by comparison. Jannotta gives evidence of matching Kazmaier's ability running to the inside and picking his blockers. He hasn't the speed that Kaz could unfurl on the devastating end sweeps, but he'll be adequate there, and more.

He will probably suffer most in comparison with Kaz as a passer, hecause you don't see a player with Kazmaler's deadly accuracy more than once in a decade. Jannotta, however, will do all right.

Two other spots are also being well taken care of. Dick Yaffa, 170lb, quarter-miler on the track team in the spring, has impressed so thoroughly as wingback that Bob Unger, hack after a year's service in the Navy, has been shifted to -Continued on Page 9

STEVENSON LOSES GROUND TO EISENHOWER IN STATE, LATEST SURVEY INDICATES

POLL 4

MUCH can happen during the next 47 days to change people's minds.

When Princeton Research Service's New Jersey Poll staff reporters asked a representative cross-section of the state's voters:

sentative cross-section of the two voters:

"Right now, which of the two candidates, Stevenson, the Demo-crat, or Elsenhower, the Republi-can, do you personally favor for President?"

The vote was:

Eisenhower Stevenson Undecided 41.0

When the "undecided voters on this question were asked which way they "leaned," the figures be-come:

Eisenhower Stevenson Unaccided 44.2

A comparison of today's findings with those reported by the New Jersey Foll August 21 shows that Eisenhower has registered a $1.3% or. The gain; Stevenson, a 1.3% loss. The August 21 New Jersey Poll results on the same question showed: Els-enhower 52.5%; Stevenson 45.5%; Undecided 2%.

The split in sentiment among Democrats, Republicans and Independents is worthy of particular mention.

For instance, one out of every six Democrats in the state (165) at the present time says he favors Eisenhower; whereas only about half as many Republicans (1.5%) say they favor Stevenson. At the same time, Independents favor Eisenhower over Stevenson by a substantial margin.

Here's how those who classified themselves as Democrats voted in today's survey;

Eisenhower 167

If you have a dress or wardrobe in mind, you can thumh through Butterick pattern books: the hig fat one that comes out each season, and the monthly leadets with new designs and a "special" on the back. (October's special is a school girt's coverup apron for cooking class, erafts, etc.)

Then you can look over another hooklet made especially for Sears. The one they have now features hack-to-school-and-college clothes. Over each Butterick sketch is a swatch of material so you can see, feel, and get some ideas about the fahric most suited to your pattern. Then you order fahric and pattern from Sears. Once you take a look, you'll sign up for a whole outfit.

Straight From Brazil, Dr. Somuel S. Rizzo, a Princetonian, got home-sick for the unblended coffees of his native Brazil and instead of wasting away with nostalgia, he arranged to import some for American coffee driokers, So-there is a new coffee on sale at Bamman's, 10 Nassau, and we think you'll enjoy experimenting with it.

This coffee is ronsted unblended. It is—and we quote the standard classification — "Santos 2/3 type, greenish, solid bean, good roast, desirable cup, genuine Bourbon." If you're a connoisseur, you prohably know what that means! All we know is that it makes a rich heavy Economy here, you see: you don't need much to hiew a good cup. We found the price remarkably low: 98c a pound, Why not surprise your next dinner guests?

Can salami be exquisite? We think so. The new delicatessen counter at Bamman's carries a brand of salami that deserves the adjective. Lean, tender and spieed just so, It's made by the Formost Kosher Sausage Company, the same eompany makes a pastrami that's too good even for adjectives-(and you know how pastrami-lovers are with adjectives!)

Try the spiced ham, too, or the boiled ham. As the man behind the counter says, with a lean and ten-der look in his eye, "I just love to ent good food " eat good food ...

What happens if she develops a leaky valve or a thromhosis we do not know. Tiger Auto does not provide electro-cardiograms. She's about $10. Oh, yes three curlers come with her. For that hair, you know, (But no stathercore) (But no stethoscope,)

For males, a road grader 26 inches long with better tires than we've got on our car, It cuts away hills, scoops up dirt, levels roads and costs $15.95. Same company makes a super dump-truck that's even longer. These toys will last a child until he's old enough to vote.

Then we found a Repeater ping-peng gun. Shoots live ping-pong balls: ping-ping-ping-ping, just like that. "Harmless fun for the whole lamily," the box says, but we suggest you take to the woods Christmas morning, Costs $4.98, with a one-ping model for $2.95.

And den't miss; a Model-T Ford that backtires using caps; a Hickory-Dickory clock with a mouse that jumps out the top. Scared the socks off us,
